For Fidelis Class.

Mrs. W. F. Booth, the president of the Fidelis class of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, gave a hanquet Friday evening at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Lindsay, 973 Eastmoreland avenue, in honor of the members of the class.

The dining room was artistically decorated in St. Patrick colors and the color scheme was carried out in the dainty menu for the evening.

A delicious dinner course was served, after which a number of interesting contests were enjoyed.

At 9 o'clock the regular business meeting of the class was held and plans for the year's work were made.

The following officers for the year were unanimously elected:

President, Mrs. W. F. Booth, vice-president, Eugenia Parkinson, treasurer, Miss Vivian Hurt, reporter, Miss Kathleen Moore, and secretary. Miss Billy Montgomery.

After a number of contests were encyed by the 46 guests who were present, refreshments were served.

French Matinee.

Seldom ever has any event presented at the Nineteenth Century club been more fully enjoyed than was that of Thursday afternoon, when the French department of the club, of which Mrs. R. O. Johnston is chairman, entertained with a French matinee.

Two charming French comedies, "Le Passe Montagne" (The Helmet), and "Pauvre Sylvie," in which Capt. Iran Ramsey, and a number of prominent club women took the leading parts, were given, and proved a delightful treat to the large audience present.

The participants in both comedies were splendid in their respective parts, and Mrs. George F. Gunther, French instructor of the department, is to be congratulated upon their splendid rendition of their roles in French. The reading of the lines and the dramatic direction under Miss Floyd Crutchfield, also descrive praise.

A number of beautiful vocal solos and the splendid tableaux. Raemakers "French and American Liberty," skillfully portrayed by Mrs. Hugh Hayley and Mrs. James E. Patteson, completed the delightful afternoon.

Those who participated in the two French comedies were as follows:

"Le Passe Montagne" (The Helmet)—Mile. Marguerite, jeune fille, Miss Carroll Johnston; Octave, soldat, Capt. Ira Ramsey.
